The Distance

Communic

Two pieces of one kind we live our separated lives
One hundred miles are not so far away
In spite the map of our world
A planet with so many good intentionsThe thunder disturbs the calm
A tidal wave so strong
What can we do
When we ask our self why we try?The winter is closing in
Invisible frost tears on my skin
On the magic of dreams we live
When the distance tear us apartLike in a fairy tale
We fly away into the night
And when the winter is done
You'll be back in my armsLike in a fairy tale
We fly away into the night
And when the winter is done
You'll be back in my arms
My arms, my armsGrowing strong by being alone
Knowing that you'll soon me home
Then nothing on earth
Can manage to tear us apartAnd a garden in blossom
Will wipe the tears from our eyes
Like in a fairy tale
We fly into the nightThe thunder disturbs the calm
A tidal wave so strong
What can we do
When we ask ourself why we try?The winter is closing in
Invisible frost tears on my skin
On the magic of dreams we live
When the distance tear us apartThe thunder disturbs the calm
A tidal wave so strong
What can we do
When we ask ourself why we try?The winter is closing in
Invisible frost tears on my skin
On the magic of dreams we live
When the distance tear us apartLike in a fairy tale
We fly away into the night
