Skeleton

The Decks

All my thoughts are all lies, all my thoughts are all lies
All my bones are so tired, all my bones are so tired
So young and so handsome, so easily led
They told me to wait, I said
It makes a man out of me, you take the fun out of me
And I've been consistent to the fucking dream
And I've paid my dues, just to get them all back
A simple man with simple desire
What should I have said? What should I have done?
The horses are here, the damage is done
So just take off your shirt and just take off your dress
We can go dancing on a Saturday
It makes a man out of me, you take the fun out of me
And I've been consistent, I'm just a skeleton
And I've been consistent, I'm just a skeleton
