

Danger

Noogie

Well you better be careful now, yes friend I think you better watch out.
You been taking me for granted, and only you can set the standing.
Any what goes on and who and when and how, only when your bored will you have me around.
Even then you tell me that I'm wrong, well I know you could be right.
What's the point of hanging out when all we do is fight? And that's all we done tonight.
You watch your step as you walk beside me.
Its a rocky road so tread it carefully.
Still tell me I'm arrogant.
Someone whose just too important,
To say hello when passing in the halls
But you're the one pretends that
I don't exist at all.
Even when you tell me I'm wrong,
Well I know you could be right.
What's the point of hanging out, if all we do is fight?
And that's all we do is fight,
And that's all we do is fight,
And that's all we do is fight.
Even that you tell me that I'm wrong,
I know you could be right.
What's the point of hanging out, when all we do is fight.
And that's all we do is fight, and that all we've done tonight.

[Repeat: x7]

And we go on, again and again

Again until the end.
