Wounds

Masterplan

I have walked this road before
So hard to find unopened doors
Lost my way but I have to stay for a while
I'll be searching for moreAnd my wounds are real
I must rise from the sorrow
And find my way out of the darkI've cried my tears from pain
There's a new day tomorrow
I'll turn the hourglass again, ohFeel and trust your inner voice
Chase your dream with desire
Show the scars you've been hiding deep inside
And reveal who you are'Cause your wounds are real
You must rise from the sorrow
And find your way out of the dark, oh yeahCry your tears from pain
Face a new day tomorrow
And turn the hourglass again, yeahAnd my wounds are real
I must rise from the sorrow
And find my way out of the darkI've cried my tears from pain
There's a new day tomorrow
I'll turn the hourglass againCry your tears from pain
Face a new day tomorrow
We'll turn the hourglass again
