

Life of Truth

Bread of Stone

I've seen so many washed away
Drowned in a sea of selfish pride
So blind and easily led astray
Wondering searching for the light

Holding to what you know is true
Afraid to let go of yourself
You've seen the path of life renewed
Still you turn and walk away

Don't be afraid you're not alone
I'll hold you by the hand and take you there

CHORUS:

~Cause I've waited all this time for you
For you to come and take the life God~s given us
To live a life live a life of truth

You~ve tried to hide the tears you cry
The wounds of this life still reside
Walls built so high you can't escape
Break free

What's going on? Your silence speaks of pain
What's wrong with now? You~ll never be the same
So let it go you've been found
Cast your burdens lay them down and fly
