Shadowboxing

Indecision

Your fighting yourself, against these same walls
Your own opposition, and you're at it again
In the mirror your hands clenched, it's fists against flesh
In the shadows in the mirrors it's deja vu again it's you once again
The same walls your blood shatters, it's you against you
What do you have to prove, there's nothing I can do
But watch yourself fight yourself, into a corner
Got yourself against the ropes
Fight against yourself and you will always win
Shadowboxing
Kill yourself fight yourself
Tear down the blood walls with shadowed swings
And you've won once again
Fight yourself kill your self and you've won again
Exclusive adversary personal opposition
But you don't realize fight yourself you'll always win
