

In Our Own Worlds

Jamie Lawson

We weathered the silence, weathered the storms.
Weathered the violence, in these symetrical forms.
    We've broken the fear left,
        And the fear left within.
        With every last breath,
        I feel you on my skin.
    We can be perfect
        We can be stars
        We can remember
        Everything that we are
    We'll take all the history
        Every battle we've won
Put our faith in the mystery, in the warmth of the sun
    We'll take every heart burnt,
        Every beautiful scar,
    And every lesson we've not learned
        Just to be who we are.
    We can be perfect
        We can be stars
    We can remember everything that we are
        We can be perfect
        Shattered and broken
        We can be perfect
        We can be perfect
Cause' you and I live in our own worlds.
Cause' you and I live in our own worlds.
    Oh, oh, oh
    Oh, oh, oh
    Oh, oh, oh
Cause' I know you're perfect
    Shattered and broken
    I know you're perfect,
    Just you be who you are.
    I know you're perfect,
    Just you be who you are.
