Something So Clear

Mudhoney

Gray skies feel so good today
Gray skies feel so good today
Bring me cold, come rain
Clearing the prey of the wayNever thought something so clear
Never thought something so clear
Got it so badShould have seen it coming
Should have seen it coming
Like a bird flying at a windowDidn't see it coming
Didn't see it coming
Like a bad timing on the sidewalkNever thought something so clear
Never thought something so clear
Got it so badThere's a certain comfort in being confused
I find certain comfort in being confused
It's clear to me, and it's clear to you
No more confusion with youNever thought something so clear
Never thought something so clear
Got so bad
Got
