

Run

Vampire Weekend

Every dollar counts and every morning hurts
We mostly work to live until we live to work
She said, "You know, there's nowhere else to go"
But change in rows, it struck me that the two of us could run
Worlds away from cars and all the stars and bars
Where a little bit of competition means so much and a little bit of change is all your little fingers touch
I said, "You know, there's nowhere else to go"
But change in rows, it struck me that the two of us could run
'Cause only with you, it's the only honest way to go
And I could take two but I really couldn't ever know
Honey with you and a little powered radio

We could try
So lead my feet away, 'cause all they do is stay
And I don't think your eyes have ever looked surprised
She said, "You know, there's no where left to go"
But we have fun, it struck me that the two of us could run
'Cause only with you, it's the only honest way to go
And I could take two if I really couldn't ever know
Honey with you and a little powered radio
We could try
