My First Love

Faith Evans

Oh baby, yeah
How come it hurts so babe?
Why does it feel so sad ?To fall in love was something
That my heart was dreaming of
And then there came the day
When I found youAnd heaven came to earth
And you were my angel
I fell in love with you
No one but youSuddenly I saw the change
That came into your eyes
I feel you were afraid
To tell me whyI thought the thing called
Love would be forever
Thought our love was true
And now the pain of losing youIf you never know just what you mean
You are my first love
If you never know, you're everything
You are my first loveTell me how a thing that brings
Such joy can bring such pain
And how could something
So wrong seem so rightWe never had the chance
To make it get better
We never said goodbye, noI never wanna feel the pain
Of losing love again
'Cause love just has a way
Of breaking downNext time I'm gonna pray
That things will be better
The second time around
So here's to love that's lost and foundI won't cry, no, I won't break down
Even though inside it hurts so bad
Next time I will make love last
Though you will always have a place in my heartIf you never know just what you mean
You are my first love
If you never know, you're everything
You are my first loveIf you never know just what you mean
You are my first love
If you never know, you're everything
You are my first loveI won't cry, no, I won't break down
Even though inside it hurts so bad

Next time I will make love last
Though you will always have a place in my heartMy first love
No one could ever take your place, no, no
My first love
No one could ever take your place, no, noIf you never know just what you mean
You are my first love
If you never know, you're everything
You are my first loveIf you never know just what you mean
You are my first love
If you never know, you're everything
You are my first love
