You Won't Find Your Way

Maysa

You won't find your way
You won't find your way
It comes in ways like a thief in the night Making my heartache scaring me awake from my most happy and peaceful dreams
You had me coasting along, like a ship in a calmer sea and yes I was caught up in, caught up in your fantasy(I see) I see now how you play these games
Through the smoke and the mirrors had me thinking I was to blame
No more (no more) chances three strikes and you're out
Games is over, never get another chance to break my heart
You won't find you way back into my heart
(my heart)
You won't find you way back into my soul
(never again baby)
You won't find you way back into my life
Never again, will you get in
Baby the door to me is locked (I've thrown away the key)
Now you think you can spend the summer away
Doing your thing, hanging out, playing all those summer games
And then winter comes along and life brings you storms
All you got to do is call my name
And I'll appear to keep you warm
(that's not gonna happen)Like a phoenix I will rise from the ashes of you Soaring through the sky, refreshed and brand new Finding peace of mind with someone new who's loving me baby, with a love so true (so true)
You won't find you way back into my heart
You won't find you way back into my soul
(never again baby)
You won't find you way back into my life
Never again, will you get in Baby the door to me is locked repeat
