

Letting Go

Alyssa Reid

I can tell that he wants you
I can see it in his eyes
But he's trying to play games on you
You don't see through his lies
But I know he really needs you
And I know you can't handle
Cause he's with his boys right now
Acting all big so you know he's putting you through hell
So tell him to go
If he's too good for you
Let him know

If he thinks is too cool
Move on
Cause it won't be long 'til his games is done and the crowd is gone
I know you're thinking it's a quarter to ten
And you wonder why you did it again
Remember what you're fighting for
As you're walking out that door
It took a minute but I'm starting to doubt
That you're ever gonna figure out
I won't be the last to know
You took a chance
Now I'm letting go
