Loose Lips Sink Ships

A Change of Pace

So I made you lieAnd we both hope
This will pass by
Through are life lines
Standing brokenCome on tell me
You can't hurt me
Don't ignore the
Lies your bleedingEntranced in noise
And words and phrases
All about you
Everyone was so rightWell, I know something you don't know
You hid something obvious from me
Well, I know something you'll never know
You hid something obvious from meEnvy sets in
And I hate you
For what you did
I will break youCry for help now
They can't hear you
Here's an offer
You can't refuseScream a little bit
Louder for me baby
Face the truth
That you baited so wellWell, I know something you don't know
You hid something obvious from me
Well, I know something you'll never know
You hid something obvious from meScream my name
At the top of your lungs
Help me to know
Why I should careDestroy our past
I'll still have
These memories
You'll never take from meWell, I know something you don't know
You hid something obvious from me
Well, I know something you'll never know
You hid something obvious from meScream my name
