Army Men

Third Class

In the death of the atmosphere they all stood in a row
Kicking one another, calling out names
And crying about the don't know
Oh, I'm alone if I know it
I'm alone if I, I show it
So army men pick up your feet
We cannot settle for a quick defeat
Oh, don't dare cry
So lose some battles but win out the war
'Cause tears are selfish and you aren't anymore
Oh, don't dare cry
In the absence of gratitude, we all feel alone
And we all become prisoners
And that disgusting formidable road
Oh, don't dare cry
Oh, I'm alone if I know it
I'm alone if I show it
So army men pick up your feet
We cannot settle for a quick defeat
Oh, don't dare cry
So lose some battles but win out the war
'Cause tears are selfish and you aren't anymore
Oh, don't dare cry, cry, oh cry, oh cry
Oh, don't dare cry
So army men pick up your feet
We cannot settle for a quick defeat
Oh, don't dare cry
So lose some battles but win out the war
'Cause tears are selfish and you aren't anymore
Oh, don't dare cry

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/