I Believe In...

Jennifer Love Hewitt

I saw the news today
A teenage boy blown away
Another mother's lost her only sonHe learned his way at school
Fighting is the golden rule
For twenty dollars you can own a gunI saw the words in red
Someone painted "love is dead"
On the sign above the football fieldI had to turn away
It hurts my soul to think that way
When love is what's real'cause I believe in
I believe in love
And I believe in
The miracles in usAnd no matter what they say
They can never take away
What I believe in
I believe in loveIn 1942
A demon army trampled through
Every inch of her forgotten townThe family hid away
A secret place above decay
And there they lived and breathed
Without a soundShe learned to write that year
Of every scream she'd dare not hear
And every tortured soul
She one day movedOne day the soldiers came
And marched her family to the train
And left her diary right in the street
And it readI believe in
I believe in love
I believe in
The miracles in usAnd no matter what they say
They can never take away
What I believe in
Oh, I believe inWhy is it that we can't help but look for
A crack of light in the darkest sky
When will we come to understand
That through right and wrong
Love's the only thing that's realSo here we go again
Fighting 'til the bitter end
Better off to go our seperate waysAnd as you slam the door
I swear that I will love no more

But you can't believe a word I say
And that's right'cause I believe in
I believe in love
And I believe in
The miracles in usAnd no matter what I say
They can never take away
What I believe in
Oh, I believe inI believe in, yeah
I believe in love
I believe in, oh
The miracles in usAnd no matter what they say
They can never take away
What I believe in
Oh, I believe in loveI believe in love
Love's the only thing that's real
I believe in love and the miracles in all of us
Love's the only thing that's real
I believe in love and the miracles in all of us
