Beauty

Stephanie Smith

Hello world, here I am today
I didn't feel like putting on make up, is that okay
And you know what else
I didn't do my hair and I didn't take the time to figure out
What to wearCause I know who I am, underneath
And I'm not afraid to show you, what's inside of meBeauty is in you
You don't have to make it, you don't have to fake it
Beauty is in you
So just embrace it, you don't have to chase itHello world, yeah it's me again
I'm tired of fighting and always trying to fit in Cause you're way too loud
You're always in my ear
Telling me I'm not okay but I just don't careCause I like who I am, underneath
And there is so much more to me, than what you seeBeauty is in you
You don't have to make it, you don't have to fake it
Beauty is in you
So just embrace it, you don't have to chase itYou're more than your size
You're more than your smile
You're more than the things that you try to hide
You're more than your scars
You're more than your fears
You're beautiful, beautiful
And it won't disappearBeauty is in you
You don't have to make it, you don't have to fake it
Beauty is in you
So just embrace it, you don't have to chase itBeauty is in you
You don't have to make it, you don't have to fake it
Beauty is in you
So just embrace it, you don't have to chase it
