The Joke

Lifehouse

When you find me in the morning
Hanging on a warning
Oh, the joke is on you
You said you were pretending
Here's to a happy endings
Oh, the joke is on you
To make sure yesterday doesn't repeat
I took the shortcut home, I left on the street I know
They won't find me here
I found out how to make my mama proud
Be real quiet, don't talk too loud
I tried, I tried to disappear
My life is for the taking
Break down as you're waking
I'm ending all this pain
When you find me in the morning
Hanging on a warning
Oh, the joke is on you
You said you were pretending
Here's to a happy endings
Oh, the joke is on you
This is my last day
Should have had my first kiss
Thanks to myself, will I ever be missed?

I hope, or maybe I don't care
I wear my team around my neck
I love 'em so much, gotta love 'em to death
Tonight, I see the world through my eyes
My life is for the taking
Break down is erasing me
I'm ending all this pain
When you find me in the morning
Hanging on a warning
Oh, the joke is on you
My big escape is my biggest mistake
I think you better turn around
Don't throw it away today, today
When you find me in the morning

Hanging on a warning
Oh, the joke is on you
You said you were pretending
Here's to a happy ending
Oh, the joke is on you
The joke is on you
The joke is on you
The joke is on you
The joke is on you

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/