This Is It

The Blamed

it's all over
how do i carry you through the hard times i will never forget you the winds of change hurt so bad this feels like it's all my fault it's so hard to let you go don't look back
who cares
it's all over
don't think i turned my back on you a choice to do what is right nobody said this would be easy you've got to follow your heart forever my best friends
