Change Has Come

Screaming Trees

Sleep awaits somewhere distant that I miss
Nights fade but there's one I won't forget
Light another cigarette and just wait
And wish for something to take me far awayFlames well up deep inside
Change has come and you can't hide in the ashes, noOne touch leaves a mark upon the hand
Alone with thoughts I can't understand
Roaming down the sidewalk I'm in hell
Words come rushing back just as clear as a bellFlames well up deep inside
Change has come and you can't hide in the ashes, noGrimace softly but gently on my face
Hope sleep comes fast, there's a world to eraseFlames well up deep inside
Change has come and you can't hide in the ashes, no
You can't hide in the ashes, no
Don't you hide in the ashes
Don't you hide in the ashes
Don't you hide in the ashes, no
