

Don't Think You Know Me

Sabrina Starke

Let me speak on this matter, it's just my truth from my point of view
We tend to see only what we want to see but eyes can fool and minds deceive
This ain't the gospel that I'm preaching here
Don't know why people usually have the tendency, to not think before they speak
All these stories and these phantasies made out of their own reality It's like falling for the fool's gold
But what you thought was just a matter of your ego Don't think you know me, don't think you know me
You might have noticed me, but don't think you know me
You know that thoughts are extremely powerful, more than we'll ever know
It's all perception a reflection of beliefs that you're aiming towards me
This ain't the gospel that I'm preaching
Make sure your heart is pure, your conscience clear before you're judging here
Don't loose a grip on Love, be conscious and be free release negativity It's like falling for the fool's gold
But what you thought was just a matter of your ego Don't think you know me, don't think you know me
You might have noticed me, but don't think you know me
Don't think you know me, don't think you know me
You might have noticed me, but don't think you know me
It's like falling for the fool's gold
But what you thought was just a matter of your ego Don't think you know me, don't think you know me
You might have noticed me, but don't think you know me
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>