Divine

Nate Sallie

I'm not a superhero, no
But I can fly above a storm
I'm not the richest guy in the world
But I've got something moreI am waiting in the wings of my Savior
To fly above the clouds, oh, oh yeah
I'm drinking deeply of heaven's pouring jars
The rain of His rich has poured outYou're lifting me up, I'm laying me down
I'm rising above and I'm seeing it now
My heart's pounding up, my vision refined
The string that is flowing deep from inside is the hand of the DivineYou're lifting me up
I'm laying me downMy words may not be eloquent
But when I speak the lion roars
I'm not the strongest or bravest man
But armed with truth I will warYou have sent my spirit in motion
Filling my soul with Your plans
And as I marvel at Your devotion
I humbly step in to Your handsYou're lifting me up, I'm laying me down
I'm rising above and I'm seeing it now
My heart's pounding up, my vision refined
The string that is flowing deep from inside is the hand of the DivineI see a miracle each day
Your splendor clearly on this land
Now my view has turned around
Favor from Your well, no boundsThey ask me how, they ask me why
Only the hand of the Divine
You're lifting me up, I'm laying me down, yeahMy heart's pounding up, my vision refined
The string that is flowing deep from inside is the hand of the Divine
Yeah, [Incomprehensible]My heart's pounding up, my vision refined
The string that is flowing deep from inside
Is the hand of the Divine
