

Doomsday Devices

Golden Bloom

You think you see me but it's only what I'm willing to show
You think you understand me but it's only what I want you to know
And you think you hear me but it's only what I'm willing to say
And if you think you're getting left behind that's just only cause I'm running away

Chorus:

And when I've been left all alone
And there is nobody else at home
Yeah that's when I use my doomsday devices
Well I keep them hidden at least I try
But it happens every time that we say goodbye
And that's when I use my doomsday devices

You think you know the story but you haven't seen the worst of it yet
When I'm making my move you say something that you'll never forget
All the hard closed doors I'm the real freak show all right
When the finger on the button and nothing gonna stop them tonight

Chorus x 2
