

Wordsworth Way

Fozzy

Summer days, they drift away
But the memories remain
Autumn days and lost in the haze
But nothing stays the same
I saw her standing at the edge of the drive
My emotions, forever paralyzed
Everything that was good in my life
Was taken away that night
This road, it stayed the same
My pleasure of joy and pain
That house is in my dreams
My childhood never sleeps
Help me, help me find the way
To get back from where I came
To a time where everything was beautiful
Winter days, they melt away
Like her image in my mind
Seasons change, cleansed with the rain
Washed away before her time
I drive these streets, so old yet so new
A looking glass, I can't see through
I still remember the day she died
Second of December, I could not cry
This road, it stayed the same
My pleasure of joy and pain
That house is in my dreams
My childhood never sleeps
Help me, help me find the way
To get back from where I came
To a time where everything was beautiful
Help me 'cause I can't say goodbye
Still living with this lie
In a time where everything was beautiful
This road, it stayed the same
My pleasure of joy and pain
That house is in my dreams
My childhood never sleeps
Help me, help me find the way
To get back from where I came
To a time where everything was beautiful
Help me 'cause I can't say goodbye
Still living with this lie
In a time when everything was beautiful
Was beautiful, was beautiful to me
