

The Fallen One

Hammerfall

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

I saw your face in the mornin' sun
Oh, I thought you were there
I heard your voice as the wind passed me by
Silently whisperin' my name So many things that I wanted to say forever left untold
I still remember the tears that you shed over someone else
Our love could never die all I can do is cry
Save a little prayer for the fallen one There is a light down at memory lane slowly fadin' away
Still holdin' on to the dreams torn apart I will follow my heart
Our love could never die all I can do is cry
Save a little prayer for the fallen one Still on my own chasin' the sun of a time long ago
Shade in my heart tearin' apart everythin' that I long for
Still on my own chasin' the sun of a time long ago
The shade in my heart tearin' apart everythin' that I long for I saw your face in the mornin' sun
Oh, I thought you were there
I heard your voice as the wind passed me by
Whisperin' my name
Our love could never die all I can do is cry
Save a little prayer for the fallen one
