Black Feathers

Spiritual Beggars

Been plowing the dark
Seeking shelter in hell where evil dwells
The more you saw, the less you believed
The less you believed, ohCasting pearls before swine
They could never see, they could not bleed
Decadence rules divine
In this sick and twisted world that we call home, ohYoull see, see another mountain calling your name
Just another way to wander, oh
Youll see, see another mountain calling your name
Just another way to wander, yeahAll the things you thought wrong
All the things you thought right
No longer carved in stone
These wounds from the past will follow you
As long as you let them last, ohYoull see, see another mountain calling your name
Just another way to wander, yeah
Youll see, see another mountain calling your name
Just another way to wander, ohThe rising of the sun is seen by everyone
Black feathers, black feathers at dawn, yeah
The rising of the sun is seen by everyone
Black feathers, black feathers at dawn, oh
[Incomprehensible], black feathers at dawn, black feathers at dawn

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/