

Thrill of It All

Satsang

even my closest of cohorts are telling me its a waste
and that societys fine and its me that should change yeah but stubborn and convinced that i know my own name and that the revolution can and will take aim

well when shit need to be done i do well i walk my talk and i walk right through i said the hills of babylon through road we travel on eventually will come true well i see a message that was meant for us all but i wish that everyone would hear the call but i guess ill take a wait no time to waste cause soon these walls will fall i said that things have gotten out of hand well its time to unify the land

all getting put back together again hey hey

well the blessing of life
one that is eternal
harmonious structures
internal external
the feeling in life with one hand off the wheel with an acceptance of what is and what isnt real said im just here

well these are life lessons learned through hard ways these are life blessings disguised as hard days well am consumed and in awe but im trying to draw conclusions but im too amazed see the way that the water meets land see the way that the strings meet my hand the way the mountains arise, collide with the skys what a gift to be part of the plan well i see human interaction going to another level when i see my brothers and sisters tryin to grow and rebel were speaking of new ways speaking of new days when the planets are aligned and its time to fly away hey hey

i said the sights the sound the sky the ground

run with your shoes off
your instincts are perfect be free you can fly

theres so much so much to be
