

Fall Apart

Casey James

I can finally sleep through the night
Roll over to your side, smell your perfume and not feel a thing
Hear someone say your name
Picture your pretty face when I close my eyes and not feel the sting Every time I run into you baby I go a little crazy inside
Tell myself I gotta breath
Try to get my heart to beat
Photographs, memories fade away easily
But you're right here in front of me and won't let me go
Since you broke my heart
Every time I run into you
I fall apart
Oh, I fall apart Like a shadow right by my side Theres just no place to hide
This little towns never seemed so small
I should just stay inside, lock the door, and kill the light
Turn off the phone, just stare at the wall Every time I run into you baby I go a little crazy inside
Tell myself I gotta breath
Try to get my heart to beat
Photographs, memories fade away easily
But you're right here in front of me and won't let me go
Since you broke my heart
Every time I run into you
I fall apart I'm looking over my shoulder when you're not there
Lately I can't go anywhere Every time I run into you baby I go a little crazy inside
Tell myself I gotta breath
Try to get my heart to beat
Photographs, memories fade away easily
But you're right here in front of me and won't let me go
Since you broke my heart
Everytime I run into you
I fall apart
oh, I fall apart
yeah, I fall apart
I fall apart
