The Ready Set

The way that I acted, so irrational
You saw me lying useless on the asphalt
And that other girl, I'm pretty sure she didn't know
Played out with cables but I jumped it so it's not slowAnd was I everything you asked for now?

And the I consist in a consistent of the second control of the sec

And was I everything you asked for now? So when a robot falls in love we clap clap

I saw an angel from above, I had a heart attack

And I awoke with blood all on my nose

'Cause everyone's an enemy and everyone's a memory

And I am so sick of this townSo what would you say we leave just you and me?

And we can make some memories

We'll drive to the south, live on some Texas beach

Our lives will be in perfect harmonySo was I everything you asked for now?

Under the floorboards, inside the walls, I am you

The vampire's smile has got you here

Any last words now? So when a robot falls in love we clap clap

I saw an angel from above, I had a heart attack

And I awoke with blood all on my nose

'Cause everyone's an enemy and everyone's a memory

And I am so sick of this, I am so sick of this II could see you fall in love I'd clap clap

'Cause you're an angel from above, giving me heart attacks

And you awoke with blood all on your nose

'Cause everyone's an enemy and everyone's a memory

And I'm so sick of this townDon't give up anything you want

'Cause it all comes in time

Lately I've been having these dreams

I saved my spot in lineThe only things I'm sure of baby, you will hear right now

I'm feeling more than touch, my words have said enough

I swear that what I love is what I'll live

Be sincere, be sincere, sing with conviction, be sincereSo when a robot falls in love just clap clap
