

Release the Kraken

Trendsetter

What's the matter brother, does the drought got you down?

(Open up the bomb shelter, sweep it on out)

Sing to the ocean in the afternoon haze

Up the iron pillars, rise in the wavesAndromeda is weeping. Inside one teardrop swims

Brave Useless in training less a millimeter thinRelease the Kraken

Get the sacrifice on!RELEASE THE KRAKEN

Good God ya'llUseless the Younger we pray for you

You know we got your back in whatever you do

Bathysphere bobbing in Eyeball Bay

Black lash crashes, forty foot wavesCepheus is holding Cassiopeia's free hand

As the Kraken breaks the surface making bee-line to the landIn Greek legend the son of Zeus and Danae

He and his mother was set adrift in a chest, but rescued by the intervention of Zeus

He was brought up by King Polydectes

Who, wishing to secure Danae, got rid of him by encouraging him

In the almost hopeless task of obtaining the head of the medusa

With the help of the gods he was successful, and with the head

Which turned all that looked on it into stone, he rescued Andromeda

And later metamorphosed Polydectes and his guests to stone
