I Will Be There

Kyla

whenever you feel all alone whenever you feel there is no reason to go on when there is doubt in your heart when there is no one in this world that you can't findwho will give you support in everything you do and who will believe that you will see things through*i will be there i'll be there i'll be your shoulder you can lean on i'll be your friend you can depend on
i will be therethere are times when things go wrong yes there are times when you just feel you don't belongthere are days when things don't go right yes there are days when you're not willing to findyou will need someone who will tell you its ok and someone who believes believes in you all the way(repeat * * *)
