

Tomorrow Today

Death By Unga Bunga

Life's tough, it's hard to get by.
You're doing it wrong but no one's really telling you how.
And I've tried, I even tried school.
But trying's too hard, and school was never really that cool.
So now, my friends and I, we hang in the streets - play it nice and you get what you need.
All day, and nighttime long it's all about fun, and the fun's at number 21.
So c'mon.

You say I should change my ways. Not now, now that I'm getting high,
but tomorrow, I'll follow.
And I'll try, I want you to stay.
I'll make it tomorrow but you want tomorrow today.

Baby girl, what happened to you?
You used to be fun, now you're nagging - telling me what to do.
You bring me down time after time.
So fuck what you say, why should I listen to you anyway?
I still do care 'bout you so I tell you again;
I will change and be a better man.
So I, I promise you lies. But I'll do what it takes 'cause all I want is for you to stay
one more day

You say I should change my ways. Not now, now that I'm getting high.
But tomorrow I'll follow.
And I'll try, I want you to stay,
I'll make it tomorrow, but you want tomorrow today.

---

Lyrics submitted by May Linn Myhr.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnlyrics.com/>