

Working on Her Testimony

The LaFontaines

The preacher listened closely to the broken mother's heart
As she talked about her daughter gone astray
Feeling so ashamed, she wants to take the blame
And she wonders where she made her mistake
But the preacher said this prodigal knows the way to calvary
And the word says that she wont run for long
So lets keep believing in God's higher ways
And know that until she is back where she belongs

She is working on her testimony, though the way she chose is lonely
Know that there is a victory down the road
Cause some day she will share her story and help somebody else to make it home
Dont worry, she is working on her testimony

This could be your story, you are praying lord how long
What it will take for my child to be saved
You know god has a plan you've placed it in his hand
But it is hard to leave it there and walk away
There is a promise to your children, the same one he has given you
That together you will spend eternity
No failure is final when god extends his grace
But until then just speak and with all your heart believe

They are working on her testimony, though the way they chose is lonely
know that there is a victory down the road cause some day they will share their story and help somebody else to make it home dont worry, they are working on her testimony
