It's Over

Milosh

It's over, it's over
It's over again
It's over, it's over
It's over againIt's hard just to watch things slip away
It's hard they say just to see things drift away
Everything's so temporary, I should have knownEven though that place for me and you is dead
Things keep running through my headIt's over, it's over
It's over, it's over
It's over againShould be with you, instead I'm lying in my bed
Thinking about things I should've said
Everything's so temporary, I should've knownWords push through me like bullets from those songs
I made for you as you sang along
Now I'm singing songs for everyone but youIt's over, it's over
It's over, it's over
It's over againDay by day
Day by day
Day by day
