Cuz I'm Here

Greyhounds

Take everything
That you gave when things were nice
Fake everything
If it makes you feel alright
With this distance
From what we solidified
I can see things
That before I tried to hideThere are times
When I can't stand the thought of chalking
What we build we built up as a loss
When you need me
And I need you just the same
All our problems
Seem to burn up in flamesCuz I'm here
And you're there
All alone
x5Cuz I'm here
And you're there
