

Tarot

Finch

I sink tonight, I'm down inside
Crawling to the place I like to hide
Spinning 'round, fear me now
Left you right 'til I'm upside down
Shadows dance on the wall
You sing to me, sleeping Stupid, there's no common ground
It's too late for apologies
It's too late for this mess you've made again Run with me, you take the lead
I forget the world silently
No more songs, you wrote them all
So one more time around, it's all your fault You're sailing on, that's okay
I'll learn to swim someday Stupid, there's no common ground
It's too late for apologies
It's too late for this mess you've made again Come with me now, I've lost and found it
I've hit the ground and I'm running Is it too late
Is it too late
Is it too late
Is it too late
