

Mary Mary

Bruce Springsteen

I heard they seen you yesterday in Charles Town
I heard about that story going round round
All I got's a book of love with pages worn clean through
A circle of gold and one bleeding tattoo
Mary, Mary, where have you gone to (Mary, Mary, where have you gone to) This town's a secret shared and shattered in a sad song
Just a Torn and tattered pieces of a love gone wrong
Hearts of stone and eyes gone deep blue
Only ours is filled two by two
Mary, Mary, where have you gone to (Mary, Mary, where have you gone to) Summer storm blue and soft and cool
On this slinky town streets where the love ruled
Now it's just a misty sidewalk with the rain drifting through
Lipstick case and one lonely red shoe
Mary, Mary, where have you gone to
(Mary, Mary, where have you gone to)
Mary, Mary, where have you gone to
(Mary, Mary, where have you gone to)
Mary, Mary, where have you gone to
(Mary, Mary, where have you gone to)
I heard they seen you yesterday in Charles Town
