

Born Again

Marilyn Manson

Do you, don't you want this to be your song?
It doesn't take a rebel to sing along This art is weak in its pretty pretty frame
And I am a monkey with a misspelled name And I'll put down your disco
And take your heart away
And I'll put down your disco
And take your heart away I'll be born again, I'm someone else
I'm someone new
I'm someone stupid just like you I'm someone else
I'm someone new
I'm someone stupid just like you Do you, don't you want to take this hit?
Does it make you feel like you're a part of it And I'll put down your disco
And take you heart away
And I'll put down your disco
And take your heart away I'll be born again, and I'm someone else
I'm someone new
I'm someone stupid just like you I'm someone else
I'm someone new
I'm someone stupid just like you I'm someone else
I'm someone new
I'm someone stupid just like you I'm someone else
I'm someone new
I'm someone stupid just like you The valley of the dolls
Is the valley of the dead
The valley of the dolls
Is the valley of the dead And I'm someone else
I'm someone new
I'm someone stupid just like you I'm someone else
I'm someone new
I'm someone stupid just like you And I'll put down your disco
And take your heart away
And I'll put down your disco
And take your heart away And I am born again
And I am born again
And I am born again
And I am born again
