THE WIND BLOWS

GALNERYUS

The sky is so bright and I'm standing alone
I was parted from you and I'm walking alone
I know it's not from you But I'll pick up the phone
I was parted from you and I'm on sandstoneI feel very lonely
I miss you
My only mistake is that I let you go on that dayWander around looking for you night and day
But I can never find you I find the memories of you
The memories of that day are fading away
The wind blows against my heart I'm looking for youI wanted to detain you But you said "Goodbye"
I was parted from you and so I asked you "Why?"
You have a tender heart and you have gentle eyes
I was parted from you and now I always sighI feel very lonely
I miss you
My only mistake is that I let you go on that dayI remember the night with you I saw a vision
Though I can never find you I find the memories of you
The good old days that we spent were the fiction?
The wind blows against my heart I'm looking for youWander around looking for you night and day
But I can never find you I find the memories of you
The memories of that day are fading away
The wind blows against my heart I'm looking for youI remember the night with you I saw a vision
Though I can never find you I find the memories of you
The good old days that we spent were the fiction?
The wind blows against my heart I'm looking for you

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/