Stabbing the Drama

Soilwork

My declaration hurts, just wanna stab it right nowCongratulations, you've found yourself
Been preaching too many times to an hysterical mind
So won't you fuckin' behave yourself
It's all in there, without despairSo you've saved your soul
It always depends who will deliver
Have you ever known
Such a beautiful mind that gives you shelter?I'm waitin' for something to show
I might as well
Just drag me down so lowI'm down the drain and I've got nothing to fear
With a polluted mind
I had my share of losin'
Don't you ever cross that line?So you've saved your soul?
It always depends who will deliver
Have you ever known
Such a beautiful mind that gives you shelter?Break the record, in a second
Cherish your mental weapons
Watch the progress from an aspect
That's stabbing the drama insideI'm waiting for something to show
I might as well
Just drag me down so low
I'm waiting for something to show
My punishment
For being down so lowI can't believe how it used to be Selfish minds were abusin' me
Self pity and determined to crawl
Manipulation of a merciful, soulI'm waiting for something to show
I might as well
Just drag me down so low
I'm waiting for something to show
My punishment
For being down so low
