In The Eye

Suzanne Vega

If you were to kill me now right here
I would still look you in the eye
And I would burn myself into your memory
As long as you were still aliveI would live inside of you
I'd make you wear me like a scar
And I would burn myself into your memory
And run through everything you areI would not run
I would not turn
I would not hideI would not run
I would not turn
I would not hideI would live inside of you
I'd make you wear me like a scar
And I would burn myself into your memory
And run through everything you areI would not run
I would not turn
I would not hideI would not run
I would not turn
I would not hideIn the eyeIf you were to kill me now right here
I would still look you in the eye
And I would burn myself into your memory
As long as you were still aliveI would not run
I would not turn
I would not hideI would not run
I would not turn
I would not hideIn the eyeIn the eyeLook me in the eyeIn the eyeIn the eye
