

Darkside Lightside

Ash

Remembering the warm summer nights
When every thing is gonna turn out right
When all the answers lie behind your eyes
And every thing's gonna turn out rightAll I want is to see you smile
All I want is to see you smileThe answers always are waiting there
You give me feelings that I used to get
Remember things that I had forgotten long agoRemembering the warm summer nights
When every thing is gonna turn out right
Remembering the warm summer nights
And every thing's gonna turn out rightAll I want is to see you smile
All I want is to see you smileThe answers always are waiting there
You give me feelings that I used to get
And remember things that I had forgotten
Get the feelings I used to get
And remember things that I had forgotten long agoAll I want is to see you smile
All I want is to see you smile
