Alone At Last

Neil Sedaka

Alone at last in a hideaway far away
From all the worries in the world.
We share each other
While the suns going down,
Not another soul around,
Alone at last,
You and I.

Sunshine, plenty of space and time, heady wine
For thirsty souls like yours and mine.
We come together
Like the sea and the sand
In a very private wonderland,
Alone at last,
You and I
Wave goodbye
To the crowded nights
And city lights we left behind.
We love the dreams we share
And dare to live the dream.

The sea in her serenity, silently
Casts a spell on you and me.
We share each other
While the suns going down
Not another soul around
Alone at last,
Alone at last,
You and I.

We share each other
While the suns going down,
Not another soul around,
Alone at last,
Alone at last,
You and I.
