

Together Again

Dottie West

Together again my tears have stopped falling
The long lonely nights are now at an end
The key to my heart you hold in your hand
And nothing else matters now, we're together again Together again, all the gray skies are gone
And you're back in my arms right where you belong
All the love that we knew is living again
And nothing else matters now, for we're together again
No, nothing else matters now, we're together again

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>