

Starcrossed

Andreas Johnson

One taste of that lovely spice
The flavor of you, honey drop sweet
One taste and no thinkin' twice
Tonight as lover we meet One touch of those tender lips
And the spirit you bring I'll never exhale
One word that slowly sips
Tonight our love just can't fail In God's universe we let ourselves go
In God's universe we're starcrossed One glance for those lovely eyes
To whom I always will return
One love under velvet skies
Tonight as starcrossed we burn In God's universe we let ourselves go
In God's universe we're starcrossed One bite of that deadly fruit
The bitter sweetness surrounds my heart
One last kiss for the exit route tonight
As a starcrossed we part In God's universe we let ourselves go
In God's universe we're starcrossed One more death for the protocol
The last waltz by the Poison Thorn
One more death in complete control tonight
As starcrossed we're born
