

Kaleidoscope

Monty Are I

I could pick apart the words you say,
But never crack the code.
'Cause every little bit you give,
Has me screaming for more. Do you wanna play a little game?
It's called trust or fall.
But I have taken your mind as a hostage,
So I've already won. Call it a dangerous obsession.
You can pretend you won't get caught.
I've got a dangerous confession.
This is a game that I've never lost
It's known as competition if you learn the ropes.
Like a kaleidoscope,
When I give you a spin,
I am in. I could complicate the words you say.
I could not break down that wall.
Conversations, always no replies,
But you wait and you wait 'til I fall. Will you come a little closer, dear?
Do you wanna have a little fun?
Here we go,
But you've already won.
