

Right Beneath Me

Childhood

This Sun will burn no bridges.
You might have to wait a while, a while.
And when you hide your reason You'll only feel like a child, in the night.
Sing it once, hide them all (Act it away).
Do you see underneath? (Acting the same).
What a shame we all know (How can we say?).
Are you sad after all? (Right beneath me, right).
I know you're clean and sober.
But the Sun reflects the silver.
You'll never be the things you do.
It's all for show, and now they know.
You'll swim alone and never cry, and cry.
Sing it once, hide them all (Act it away).
Do you see underneath? (Acting the same).
What a shame we all know (How can we say?).
Are you sad after all? (Right beneath me, right).
Sing it once, hide them all (Act it away).
Do you see underneath? (Acting the same).
What a shame we all know (How can we say?).
Are you sad after all? (Right beneath me, right).
