

North Star

Chris Mann

Lost in a vast ocean,
Hope sinking like a stone,
And a faith broken
By fading thoughts of home.

When night is all you see,
Know that I will never leave.

'Cause through every season,
Through all the years,
When the water is calm,
Or when the waves are the storm,
I will be here.

When you stop believing
And you're lost in the dark,
When land's out of reach,
Know that I'll be your North Star.

I will be where you are
When low tides start to rise.
I will shield your heart
The way you guarded mine.

When loves pull out to sea,
Know that I will never leave.

'Cause through every season,
Through all the years,
When the water is calm,
Or when the waves are the storm,
I will be here.

When you stop believing
And you're lost in the dark,
When land's out of reach,
Know that I'll be your North Star

Be your North Star.

I'll be shining
Till you find me.
I'll keep keep shining on.

'Cause through every season,
Through all the years,
When the water is calm,
Or when the waves are the storm,
I will be here.

When you stop believing
And you're lost in the dark,
When land's out of reach,
Know that I'll be your North Star.

So just hold on to me,
Know that I'll be your North Star.
