

A Different Side of Me

Allstar Weekend

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

I'd be living the dream
If my life switched with the football team
I'd be praised by my friends
If I was driving a Mercedes Benz Do I know?
What do I know? I wanna be a rock star, a superhero
Living the dream, doing the things that I always wanted
I wanna see my face on the TV
With my picture on the cover for my friends to see a different side of me I'm barely five foot eight
No muscleman but I can roller skate
Not the biggest sports fan
But the band drives a mean mini van Do I know?
What do I know? I wanna be a rock star, a superhero
Living the dream, doing the things that I always wanted
I wanna see my face on the TV
With my picture on the cover for my friends to see a different side of me I know everything is gonna change for me
If I can make it then you'll see that there's a different side of me
I won't be waiting for my life to pass ahead of me
So I know you'll see a different side of me I wanna be a rock star, a superhero
Living the dream, doing the things that I always wanted
I wanna be, a rock star, a superhero
Living the dream, doing the things that I always wanted I wanna be a rock star, a superhero
Living the dream, doing the things that I always wanted
I wanna see my face on the TV
With my picture on the cover but you'll never have to wonder
'Cause I'm not like all the others but my friends will see a different side of me A different side of me
A different side of me
A different side of me
