

Red Light

Bush

If I could change the things I've done
You could be the one
There is no blame, there is no pressure
The haunted ways to make yourself better I ran through the red light
I was sorry, not safe, I was speed, not brake
I ran through the red light
I was sorry, not safe, I was speed, not brakes If I could feel the Holy Ghost
And understand what hurts you most
'Cause in your eyes and in your fashion
It's deeper than you can imagine, yeah I ran through the red light
I was sorry, not safe, I was speed, not brake
I ran through the red light
I was sorry, not safe, I was speed, not brakes The other side of you
(Searching, searching)
The other side of you
The other side of you
(Searching, searching)
The other side of you This perfect night goes on and on
We are swimming in a dawn
There's light in everyone
'Cause even light where we can't see
Light where we can't feel
Light where we'll all blow up I ran through the red light
I was sorry, not safe, I was speed, not brake
I ran through the red light
I was sorry, not safe, I was speed, not brakes The other side of you
(I ran through the red light)
The other side of you
The other side of you
(I ran through the red light)
The other side of you The other side of you
(I ran through the red light)
The other side of you
The other side of you
(I ran through the red light)
The other side of you

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>