Perfect World

Mikaila

I can't believe all the games you played
You had it all and then threw it away
Maybe I'd still be your girl, huh
If we were living in a perfect world
C'mon, c'monIt's a thin line between reality and fantasy
You could've been mine but it's over now
It wasn't meant to be, it's a hate crime
(Hate crime)
Anyone could see the way you treated meDo I look like I was born yesterday
It could've wind up more, but I caught your playIf we were living in a perfect world
You would never disrespect your girl
You know better than to lie to me
You play your games but my eyes can seeIf we were living in a fairy tale
And I was wishing at a wish and well
Maybe I'd still be your girl
If we were living in a perfect worldDo you realize that you had the best
And now you failed the test
You had the first prize
(First prize)
And threw it all away
Now there's a price to payLook at my eyes
(Look at my eyes)
And you know it's coming before I close the door
The judge and jury have said it's true
You're guilty of breaking my heart in twoIf we were living in a perfect world
You would never disrespect your girl
You know better than to lie to me
You play your games but my eyes can seeIf we were living in a fairy tale
And I was wishing at a wish and well
Maybe I'd still be your girl
If we were living in a perfect worldYeah, in a perfect world
Living, living, living in a perfect world
Yeah, if we were living in a perfect worldToo bad
(Too bad)
You're sorry now
(Now)
What goes around comes around
(Around)
Watch out as the rain comes falling down

Yeh yeah, yeh yeahDo I look like I was born yesterday
It could've wind up more, but I caught your playIf we were living in a perfect world
You would never disrespect your girl
You know better than to lie to me
You play your games but my eyes can seeIf we were living in a fairy tale
And I was wishing at a wish and well
Maybe I'd still be your girl
If we were living in a perfect worldIn a perfect worldIf we were living in a perfect world
(If we were living in a perfect world)
You would never disrespect your girl
You know better than to lie to me
(Don't lie to me)You play your games but my eyes can see
If we were living in a fairy tale
And I was wishing at a wish and well
Maybe I'd still be your girl
If we were living in a perfect world
